WOUNDED PRISONER IN PHILADELPHIA MAY BE THE MISSING MAN WARD SHOT

SCHIFF REFUSES TO GIVE STEEL MERGER DOCUMENTS TO LOCKWOOD COMMITTEE

Senator Orders Him to Produce Papers in $251,000,000 Deal.
PRIVATE, HE CLAIMS.
$20,000,000 Fund to "Make Market" for New Stock Sales.

Samuel Untermyer, chief attorney for the Lockwood Housing Committee, warned Mortimer L. Schiff of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., at to-day's investigation of the new $251,000,000 North American Steel Company merger, that if he continued to refuse to answer questions he was liable to go to jail. The banking firm is the syndicate managers of the merger.

Mr. Schiff, who had fought Mr. Untermyer almost every minute of an hour of cross-examination, defying both counsel and the committee to compel him to produce the merger records, turned a titling climax to a tense morning when he leaned forward in the witness chair and shouted at Untermyer:

"If I go to jail, sir, you'll hear me company."

"I want the chairman to warn Mr. Schiff that he is not down in his banking room now," said Mr. Untermyer. "And don't think you are down in your law office, either," shot back Mr. Schiff. "I wish you would call your attorney to order. If you don't, I'll refuse to answer questions and take chances on the consequences."

"If you don't answer questions you'll take your chances of going to jail," threatened Mr. Untermyer. "If I go to jail you'll hear me company," replied Mr. Schiff.

Thomas L. Chadbourne, counsel in the North American Steel Company merger, who followed Mr. Schiff to the stand, refused to furnish the committee with accountants' reports of the assets and earnings of the companies concerned in the merger.

"I decline to do so," said Mr. Chadbourne, "on the ground that they form part of the confidential relationship between lawyer and client. In addition they were given to me with the distinct understanding that the figures of one concern should not be disclosed to another."

Mr. Untermyer asked Mr. Chadbourne if he would honor a subpoena to produce all the data of the merger. Mr. Chadbourne replied that he thought he had already answered that question.

"I think the witness is in contempt," said Mr. Untermyer. Chairman Lockwood whispered to Mr. Untermyer and Mr. Chadbourne was excused. A subpoena will be served.

YOUNG WIFE TOOK NEIGHBOR'S MILK AND IS ARRESTED

Magistrate Succeeds in Having Charge Against Mrs. Castle Dropped.

Lechner Innis, Negro elevator boy at No. 231 West 69th Street, looking from his car this morning saw Mrs. Frieda Castle, a tenant, stop in front of the door of Miss Evelyn Picard, an actress, look around and secrete a milk bottle from Miss Picard's doorman under her raincoat.

Innis, when Mrs. Castle, who married George Castle, a shoe salesman, last January, reached her own door, accused her of the theft.

"Please," she said to the boy, "let me put it back. I just had to have some milk for breakfast and I had spent all this week's housekeeping allowance."

Innis refused. He called Felix Kolenz, the superintendent, who made a charge of petty larceny against Mrs. Castle to Policeman Kenny of the West 68th Street Station.

Mr. Castle reached West Side Court just as his wife was arraigned before Magistrate Simpson. She burst into tears and clung to her husband while she sobbed that the story told by the Negro was true and she was very, very sorry and she wasn't fit to be married to anybody but she had never wanted a glass of milk so much in her life and she just had to have it.

Magistrate Simpson regarded approvingly the husband's efforts to get her back to quiet and then said: "I think the complainant in this case ought to take into consideration all the circumstances. He ought to consider whether the interests of justice require making a charge of theft against the young wife."

"The charge is withdrawn, absolutely," said Mr. Kolenz, on whom a great light seemed to have broken. "That's right," said the magistrate to the superintendent, and to Mr. Castle he said: "Take your wife home and be good to her."

Mrs. Castle went out with her head against her husband's shoulder.

MRS. M'CORMICK ENDS HER FIGHT TO STOP WEDDING

Father of Mathilde Withdraws Consent to Her Marrying Oser.

REMAINS AS GUARDIAN.

Told to Give Heed to Charge That Swiss Is Fortune Hunter.

CHICAGO, June 3.—The court fight against Mathilde McCormick's international marriage to Max Oser ended abruptly in less than two minutes' proceedings in Probate Court to-day, when Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, the girl's mother, withdrew her petition for a restraining order to prevent Mathilde's marriage to the Swiss horseman.

Judge Horner in granting the motion, added that Harold F. McCormick would be appointed Mathilde's legal guardian without further delay, but that he would expect the father to execute his trust "as guardian and a parent should" and that he would also expect Mr. McCormick to "take into consideration all the points in Mrs. McCormick's answer."

This was interpreted as a warning that Mr. McCormick should consider very carefully his attitude toward Mathilde's marriage to Oser. It was also said that Mr. McCormick was going to be sure Oser's love was for Mathilde and not for her riches, before he allowed the marriage to go ahead.

"Mr. McCormick fully realizes his responsibilities as guardian of Mathilde," Lawyer Cassels said.

Mrs. McCormick's answer had charged that Oser sought the marriage, hoping to obtain "large sums of money and financial gain" and deplored the disparity in ages between the two. Oser is 44.

Asked what the next move would be, Mr. Cutting said there "wouldn't be any next move."

HARDING IS WILLING TO BECOME ARBITER IN ANTHRACITE CASE.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—President Harding probably would agree to appoint a tribunal to arbitrate differences between the anthracite operators and miners, if both sides could ask it, it was indicated at the White House to-day.

No direct comment on the proposals of the anthracite operators to take miners to the meetings at New York, suggesting such action, was made, other than a statement that the Administration was hopeful some basis for a settlement soon would be reached.

NINETEEN HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

Hylan Helps to Give Commissioner Rousing Sendoff at Pier.

WILL TOUR EUROPE.

Police Methods in Several Cities to Be Studied on Trip.

Police Commissioner Richard E. Enright sailed on the Olympic to-day and the farewell demonstration in his honor was almost royal. The Mayor and the Mayor's wife and a host of police officials and underlings gathered at the pier. The Police Glee Club and police band and the Municipal Band sang and played to him and a police airplane hovered over the ship like a guardian angel.

When the Mayor, the Commissioner and Rodman Wanamaker stood together on deck to have their pictures taken, Mr. Wanamaker described the group as "Civic Virtue," but Enright offered a correction—"Blessed Trinity." Enright also said he noticed that Great Britain "is sending two new recruits to Ireland because one cop is going there."

"I'm going first to Paris," Enright told the reporters. "Then I'll go to Venice, Rome, Vienna and Berlin, back to Paris, then to London, up to Scotland and through Ireland. I am going to make an investigation of the police departments in the chief European cities, especially Paris and London, learn what new ideas they have for police work and try to get the heads of their departments to come to New York for the international police conference in September."

"It is important that the police departments here and in Europe get together and work together in a way that would amount to something like the establishment of an international police force."

Col. Jefferson de Mont Thompson, head of the Aviation Department of the Police Reserves, sailed with the Commissioner, as did also Rodman Wanamaker.

Other passengers were: Field Marshal Earl French, returning from a visit; Col. Michael Friedsam, of H. R. trade conditions for President Harding; Marjorie Schweitzer, a dancer; Bull Montana, the movie actor; E. Paul Yaselli, Assistant United States District Attorney; Josef Hoffman, the pianist; Irving T. Bush; Dr. J. C. E. Everwyn, the Holland Minister to the United States; and Howard Heinz, the pickle man.

CHLOROFORM MAN IN EFFORT TO GET HIS FINGERPRINT

NEWTON, N. J., June 3.—Sussex County authorities chloroformed a prisoner, whose name they refused to reveal, in order to obtain his fingerprints, it was learned to-day. The reason for his detention is kept a secret.

For eight days the man has successfully fought off all efforts to take his fingerprints, it was said. Yesterday a physician was summoned, the prisoner was surprised in his cell, the chloroform fumes liberated and the work accomplished. He quickly revived.

GEN. WU THREATENS WAR ON SUN YAT SEN

PEKING, June 3.—(Associated Press).—General Wu Fei-Fu, who recently erased Chang-Tao-Lin, Manchurian War Lord, from the slate of Peking politics, to-day declared that if Sun Yat-sen, President of the Republic of South China, resists in opposing plans for the unification of China, he, too, must be eliminated by the sword.

BOOK DEALING WITH WARD BAKING CO. FOUND ON PHILADELPHIA PRISONER

WHOLE WARD HOUSEHOLD SUBPOENAED BEFORE JURY TO CONFRONT CUNNINGHAM

Wife, Father, Nurse and Maid to Appear on Monday and Tell What They Know About Mysterious Blackmail Plot.

District Attorney Weeks of Westchester County, while his agents served subpoenas on Mrs. Walter S. Ward, Miss Lulu Barrows and Miss Amy Mild, nurse and maid in the Ward household and on George S. Ward, Walter S. Ward's father, to appear before the Grand Jury Monday, was receiving the report from Philadelphia regarding the man under arrest there in the belief that he may be one of the men implicated in Ward's story of the attack of blackmailers in which Clarence Peters was killed May 16.

The description of Guizo, or Guido, the man under arrest, hardly coincides with that given out by Sheriff Werner last week as that of "Jack," the chauffeur who, with Charley Ross, drove away, according to Walter Ward's story, after Peters fell. The Werner description made "Jack" out to be a pasty-faced man with black hair, not conspicuously of heavy build.

In Walter Ward's statement to the authorities he said that he fired several shots after Jack and Charley Ross and "thought one of them collapsed." The statement did not indicate which one.

More significant to Mr. Weeks is the appearance of the suspect in Philadelphia, the point to which Clarence Peters got transportation in exchange for laborers work, when he was dismissed from the Marine Barracks at Paris Island, S. C. Investigators at Paris Island have reported that young Peters repeatedly stated that being without funds did not worry him, because he could get "plenty of money from rich friends in New York" and would "have no trouble in getting to New York in an automobile if he could once get to Philadelphia. He reached Philadelphia not earlier than noon, May 15, the day before his body was found."

The Grand Jury will be presented with the statement of James J. Cunningham, the race track adventurer, movie scenario writer, run-runner and hotel beat brought into the case by the New York American.

Jail attendants said that during last night Cunningham declared his whole story was fiction made up with the object of fooling the American into paying him $1,000 before they found he was lying. Many of the statements attributed to him he declared he had not made, or if he had made them, he said, they had been suggested by others and uttered by himself when he did not know what he was saying. He inquired vaguely and utterly without humorous intent as to whether he could take action against the American for keeping him in involuntary restraint and impairing his morals.

The Grand Jury will hear such

John Cuizo, With Wounds in Chest and Arm, Arrested After Struggle and Police Are Convinced He Is Mixed Up in Blackmail Mystery.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 3.—A man with a bullet wound in his chest and another in his arm, who may be the mysterious "Jack" in the baffling Ward blackmail and murder case in New York, is under police guard at the Samaritan Hospital.

The man is a giant in strength and stature. Three patrolmen are standing at his bedside to prevent possible escape. Lieut. Belshaw, head of the murder squad, is so impressed with the importance of the prisoner and the possibility that he is the man sought in the Ward case that he had him photographed as he lay in his cot in the hospital, and sent a print with a minute description, including fingerprints, to District Attorney Weeks at White Plains, N. Y.

The man who says he is John Cuizo, of New York, put up a savage battle when police tried to arrest him. Despite his two wounds, both of which have become infected, he was able to fight off two uniformed men for ten minutes before he succumbed to the joint use of their blackjacks.

In the hospital three policemen were put on guard to prevent any attempt to escape.

He has refused to answer questions. According to Detective Cuizo has been unable to furnish an account of his movements between May 14 and 17, during which time Peters was killed and his body found by New York State police.

In his possession were found a book dealing with the affairs of the Ward Baking Company and another containing addresses, among them that of Capt. "Marsh" of "March" in an office building at Broad and Chestnut Streets.

TALLIES WITH DESCRIPTION OF PETER'S PAL.

Added significance, in the minds of police, is gained by the exactness with which the prisoner tallies with the description of Peters' companion in the confession which was obtained yesterday at White Plains by District Attorney Weeks and Sheriff Werner.

Early Friday morning, two policemen stopped Cuizo, who was prowling around a house. He refused to answer their questions and hit one of them when they tried to arrest him. A furious wrestling bout followed, Cuizo once freeing himself of his captors, but he was again seized and taken to the police station.

Under the ordinance all drivers of cars are given cards by the Police Department, which cards will be announced that these cards will be marked or punched for the following violations:

One way street.
Restricted street.
Failing to stop on signal.
No lights.
Improper lights.
No name on vehicle.
Unnecessary noise.
No red flag on extended material.
Unattended vehicle.
Towing more than one vehicle.
Overloaded vehicle.

"After that, if the owner offends again he is given a summons and brought into the Traffic Court, where the Magistrate will have the option of taking away his license, which amounts to taking away his license," said the Chief Magistrate. He added:

"No one can tell the exact number of cases that will take out of the courts, but it must be considered that the number of taxicabs licensed to-day approximates 22,000, and the licensing is still going on. The drivers of these furnish a large number of the cases which come into the courts for all sorts of violations. There is parkage enough for only a small percentage of them, so the hopeless task goes on of bringing them into this court for soliciting of public stands."

"As to the speeders, a constant stream of these comes from Riverside Drive, upper Broadway, St. Nicholas Avenue and Convent Avenue. The danger to the public at these places is on the crossings. Even if they slow down to fifteen miles per hour the public would not be protected unless policemen are on the crossings. If the crossings on these avenues are policed the speeding would die down."
